

Bamboo bed linen care instructions

Please follow these instructions to ensure the continuing quality and durability of your bed linen

Button duvet covers closed before washing. Bamboo fabric is very absorbent and therefore particularly heavy when wet. If not buttoned closed before washing, the weight will put strain on the duvet cover opening seams.

Cold or warm machine wash on a gentle cycle.

Use a non-biological detergent that does not contain optical brighteners, bleaching agents or enzymes. These may damage the fabric and cause it to pill (bobble). Note that some brands of non-biological detergents may contain optical brighteners. We recommend ecover in the UK. Avoid stain removal products.

Do not use fabric conditioner. This can reduce absorbency and breathability.

Line dry if possible. If necessary, finish off in a tumble dryer at a low to medium temperature. Do not over-dry and remove promptly.

Medium heat steam iron. If using a non-steam iron, use a lower temperature and iron while the fabric is slightly damp.

Do not bleach. Do not dry clean.

Size information

Our bed linen is oversized to allow for shrinkage in the first few washes, so please don't worry if your product is slightly large to start with.

Wash before use: our bed linen is not pre-washed. To account for shrinkage, we recommend that you wash your bed linen at 40°C for the first couple of washes, and at 30°C for subsequent washes.
